Supportive Documents against Free subscriptions and access to e-resources & books for the Faculty members via Institutional Library:

For the professional updation of our professors, our college provides them with access to different e-journals and books via our general library and J.J.Goodwin research library. Since our libraries are well equipped and packed with precious books with RFID enabled set-up, our professors benefit from the stock of various journals and research books. In addition, they have access to e-journals like Sage, Taylor and Francis etc. This facility gives them an ample scope to keep themselves updated globally. This, in short, helps them know contemporary developments and issues in education. Documentary evidence is annexed below to back the claim.

Share information with colleagues and with other institutions on policies and regulations:

Our professors keep themselves professionally updated by writing research papers in collaboration with other researchers in the field of education. This not only upholds their acumen for research but also shows their practice of sharing information with colleagues and other institutions on policies and regulations. This is evident in their list of publications linked with the Indian Research Information Network System (IRINS). Evidence is given below to support the claim.
